

Appendix 3: Process map depicting the current outpatient journey, with particular focus on how patients are reminded about medications. The process map demonstrated that patients are not being reminded about medications during phone calls two days prior to their appointments.